LEVEL CROSSING REMOVAL UPDATE

CORRIGAN, HEATHERTON
AND CHANDLER ROADS
NOBLE PARK

MAY 2018

We have removed the level crossings at Corrigan, Heatherton and Chandler roads. Noble Park Station is now operational as works continue around the brand new station precinct.

What we've been doing

Now that the level crossings have been removed in Noble Park we have shifted our focus on new parkland in the area. We recently brought in new top soil to prepare for tree planting and have removed the old tracks at Corrigan Road.

We are also continuing work on the new Noble Park Station with construction of the ground level buildings. These include a staff area and PSO facilities. In another big change for the area, the old Noble Park Station was demolished last month. This space will soon be cleared for further construction of the new open space.

What's coming up

In the coming weeks we will remove the old tracks at Heatherton and Chandler Roads. The ground level buildings at the new station will also continue construction.

We will start the greening of the old rail corridor with preparations getting underway for the planting of the first new trees in the open space. More sections of the shared use path will also be concreted. When completed, this new path will connect Noble Park to the Eastlink trail.
